

Liberty Lines transit, converted all their 60' Neoplan articulated buses to LED. This mid-life project means that they will be unlikely to require any maintenance to this part of their fleet for the remainder of their service life.

Over 1,200 lamps were replaced. This project overhaul also included the replacement of the fixture lenses. Which improved the appearance of the interior of the vehicle.

